"I am a dedicated Python full-stack developer with six months of intensive coursework and hands-on experience. Throughout my learning journey, I have not only completed three successful programming projects but also honed my skills in utilizing the powerful Django framework for building robust web applications. My proficiency in Python for backend development, coupled with my expertise in crafting seamless user interfaces using HTML/CSS, has enabled me to create intuitive and dynamic websites.

One of my notable achievements includes developing a responsive portfolio, where I seamlessly blended HTML, CSS, and JavaScript to showcase my skills and projects effectively. My passion for programming is not only evident in my work but also in my constant pursuit of improvement. I am enthusiastic about embracing new challenges, exploring innovative solutions, and staying updated with the latest industry trends.

WORK HISTORY:

PYTHON FULLSTACK DEVELOPER

2023-03
- 2023-09

Uniq technologies, Chennai

- In my first project, I developed a CRUD system for collecting customer reports, allowing easy data modification. Users created, read, and modified reports seamlessly. This experience honed my database structuring and user interface skills, building a solid foundation for tackling complex web development challenges.
- I developed a ToDo app for easy note-taking, organizing vital news and customer info efficiently. Users save time accessing important data through its user-friendly interface. Boosting productivity, it simplifies managing tasks and news effortlessly. I also created a simple word counting app
- I am using Python with the Django framework, along with HTML and CSS, for my project.
